The Hudson Passive Project
Open House

…part of International Passive House Days, a global passive house event

"International Passive House Days" is a global event that opens the doors to Passive Houses from all over the world. It provides an unparalleled opportunity for enthusiasts and newcomers alike to experience Passive Houses in all their variety. We are thrilled to have the Hudson Passive Project take part.

The Hudson Passive Project demonstrates the energy-saving potential of residential architecture, reducing heating energy consumption by a staggering 90%. Located in the beautiful Hudson Valley, about two hours north of New York City, The Hudson Passive Project is the first certified passive house in New York State and among the highest performing homes in the world.

We welcome you, your friends and family to come see the Hudson Passive Project and join us in raising awareness about the Passive House standard.
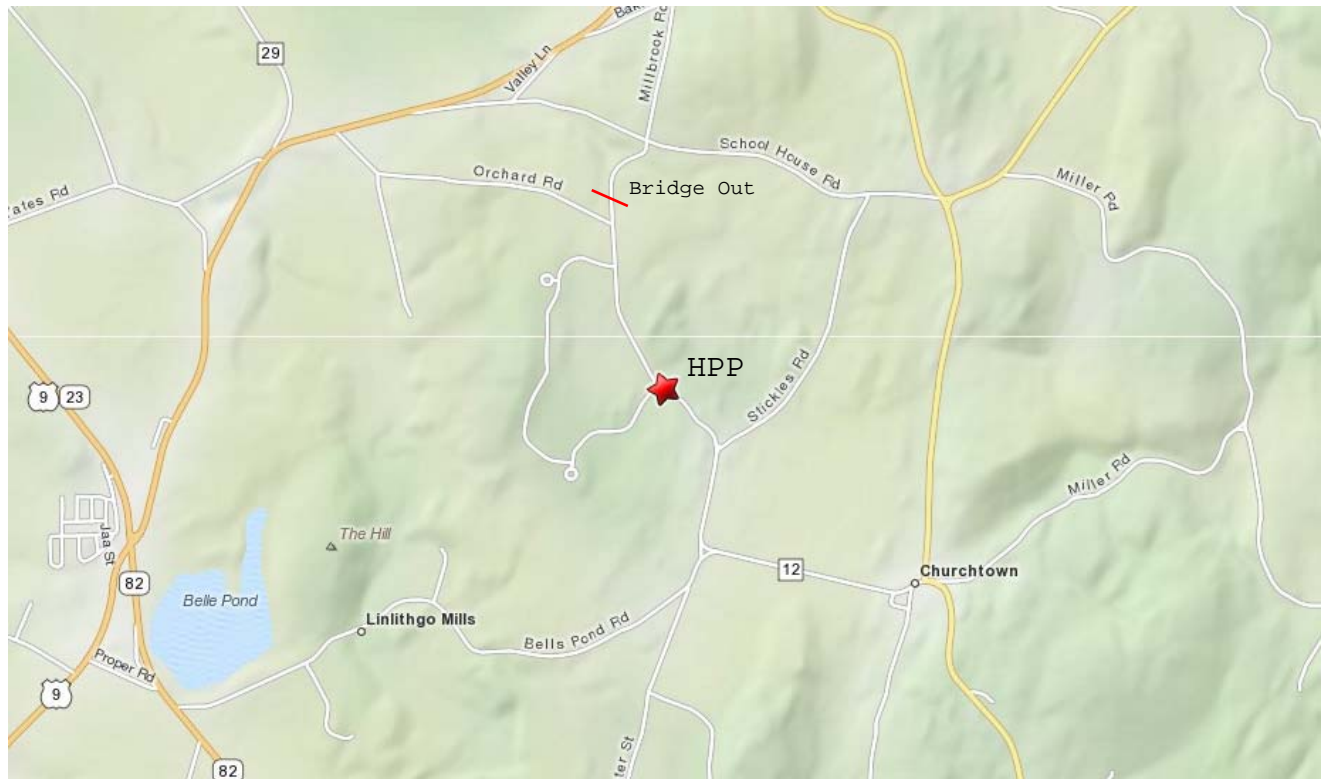

Sunday, November 13th: 2-5 pm
